Heavenly Father, I am called to walk by the light of Christ, your Son, and to trust in his wisdom.

During Lent, I submit my self to him more and more and am striving to believe in him with all my heart. I enter on this path of repentance so that in dying to self I might rise to new life.

Lord Jesus, you spoke peace to a sinful world and brought mankind the gift of reconciliation by the suffering and death you endured. I love you and joyfully bear the name Christian.

Teach me to follow your example. Increase my faith, hope and charity so that I may struggle to turn hatred to love and conflict to peace.

Loving Redeemer through your passion, teach me self-denial, strengthen me against evil and adversity and so make me ready to celebrate your Resurrection.

Healer of body and soul, cure the sickness in my spirit so that I may grow in holiness through your constant care.

Forgive my sins against the unity of your family; make me love as you loved me. Good Master, make me mindful of the dignity you gave me in Baptism, may I live for you at every moment.

Give me a perfect heart to receive your work, that I may bring forth fruit in patience. Renew my eagerness to work with you in building a better world, so that my friends may hear your gospel of peace and justice.

Protecting Human Life And Dignity: Promoting A Just Economy

Together with Dr. David Coleman and Mrs. Kay Stone of Chaminade University of Honolulu, Sr. Ruth and Carol Denis visited with Senator Daniel Akaka and our other Congressional Delegates from Hawaii.

Under the guidance of the USCCB we encouraged them to put the needs of the poor and jobless first in our public priorities, budget and tax policies, and economic recovery efforts; to ensure that health care protects the life, dignity, consciences and health of all; and to preserve poverty-focused development and humanitarian assistance to promote a better, safer world.

We thank Fr. Sam and our Church for giving us the opportunity to attend this training.

Pastor's Corner

Some years ago, I watched the construction of the building where I'm making this recording. To prepare the foundation, the construction company dug a pretty big hole, and poured concrete footings around steel rods placed deep in the ground. I feel confident this building will stand up to time and weather.

Jesus understood how buildings were built. Though Joseph, his foster father, is usually called a "carpenter," some Scripture scholars suggest that the Greek word for "carpenter" can also mean someone who labored in construction work. Did Jesus watch, or even assist, as Joseph took part in some Roman building projects in his native Galilee?

We're not certain, but today's Gospel, from Matthew's seventh chapter, hints that Jesus may have known the value of a sound foundation. He tells a parable about two houses—one withstood a storm, the other did not. The difference was in the foundation, and in the wisdom or folly of each builder. Our Lord's point? The need to make sure our faith is founded in actions, not just in words.

Just as it's easier to put up a flashy superstructure, and harder to dig deep to make a firm foundation; so it's easy to "talk" our faith, rather than live it. "Doing the will of the Father"—as Jesus asks us to do, means sacrifice and a denial of self. Such "foundational living" isn't always visible to others. But with God's help, we can weather life's storms.

I'm Father Greg Friedman with the "Sunday Soundbite" from St. Anthony Messenger Press, on the web at FranciscanRadio.org.
