Part 5: Music Singing the Liturgy

We are celebrating when we involve ourselves meaningfully in the thoughts, words, songs and gestures of the worshipping community, when everything we do is wholehearted and authentic for us—when we mean the words and want to do what is done.

LUAU

Reminder from the Alumni and Friends of SJS

If you are in the mood for scrumptious luau food, great entertainment and fun with good friends, then hurry and buy your tickets for the Alumni and Friends luau to be held at the Hilo Meishoin Hall on Olona St. on Saturday, May 24. The profits from the luau provide tuition assistance for students at St. Joseph School. Tickets are only $25 each, and may be bought from any Alumni and Friends member, or call Milton or Agnes Crivello at 935-7753.

Solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity Year A

Readings: Exodus 34:4b-6,8-9; 2 Cor. 13:11-13; John 3:16-18

First Reading: Exodus 34:4b-6, 8-9

This passage from Exodus 34, recounts the event of God meeting Moses on Mount Sinai, where the Lord reveals his name to Moses. Here YAHWEH (which means "I am who am" translated from Hebrew as THE LORD) is affirmed as Israel's God. This name (see Ex 3:14) points to the oneness of God in contrast to the many gods of other nations.

Responsorial Psalm: Daniel 3:52, 53, 54, 55, 56

These verses attributed to Daniel from the magnificent song of the three young men in the fiery furnace (Daniel 3:52-90), giving voice to the praise of all creation to Yahweh as Lord of all. Response: "Glory and praise for ever!"

Second Reading: 2 Corinthians 13:11-13

Paul in this reading alludes to the profound life of communion lived by the Three Divine Persons who intimately share that communion with us. Therefore Christian love, which overcomes obstacles and difficulties, is the sign of union with and in the family life of God.

Gospel: John 3:16-18

This brief section is from the dialogue between Jesus and Nicodemus. The passage unfolds the relationship of baptism to faith as well as of faith to salvation. Jesus is the revelation of the Father as expressed in the first chapter of John where Jesus is God's Word made flesh. God reveals himself through his Son because he loves us and wants to share his Trinitarian life of communion with us. John helps us to understand that while acceptance and belief are a condition for salvation, rejection and "love of darkness" bring about condemnation.

Hilo Roman Catholic Community Mission Statement

We, the Hilo Roman Catholic Community of St. Joseph and Malia Puka O Kalani, guided by the Holy Spirit, Our Blessed Mother and Saint Joseph, gather as a family of believers in the celebration of the Eucharist. Blessed with many cultures, talents and inspired by the Hawaiian tradition of Aloha, we pledge to share our heritage, our gifts and the principles of our faith, and to commit ourselves to the educational, social and spiritual needs of all our brothers and sisters.

Music Singing the Liturgy

Years ago, my childhood pastor had a distinctive hobby: birdcalls. He was remarkably adept at imitating the distinctive sounds of an entire menagerie.

Even more remarkable were his ventriloquist talents: he could throw his tuneful chirping into the trees. Everyone was charmed by his skill, until the day he exercised his talent during an encore for a Boston Pops concert.

The maestro was clearly unprepared for the chorus of birdsong which burst around him as he waved his baton through the stanzas of a Sousa march. The parish children were delighted to see the tuba player peer into his horn looking for the canary, but most of the concert patrons and musicians were aghast at this unexpected audience participation.

While audience participation is not part of a concert, it is an essential element of Catholic worship. Worship and music are woven together in such a way that they cannot be parted.

When we pray the liturgy, we are gathered by the Spirit to enter into Christ's worship of the Father. Baptized into Christ, we are united in his prayer in such a way that when we pray as the assembly, it is Christ who prays in us.

Throughout the history of the church, the wedding of prayer and song has brought humanity's music to life. St. Paul encouraged the Colossians: "let the peace of Christ, rejoice in your hearts; let the word of Christ dwell in you abundantly, in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing one another, in psalms, hymns, and spiritual canticles, singing in grace in your hearts to God." (Colossians 3:15-16)

At the heart of our liturgy is the action of the people, giving praise and thanks to God together. It is a wonderful thing to listen to the tremendous variety of voices in church. The music of the assembly has the potential to engage the spirit, move the heart, strengthen the bonds of community, direct the Christian life, and render God's love visible.

Catholics are called to sing God's praise. Yet our task is challenging in a culture where public singing is infrequent. Many of us are surrounded by music all day long, but it is amplified, computerized, and digitized to perfection. Music accompanies our exercise and our travels. Even the evening news is woven together by urgent electronic music. There is an explosion of music, but a reduction of places where our voices are sought after and welcomed. For people whose lives are filled with music, we are often curiously silent and passive.

Where is our participation in the song of the liturgy most desired? First, there are the texts of the liturgy itself: chanted responses to invitations like The Lord be with you, the Lord have mercy, the gospel Alleluia, the Gloria, the acclamations of the Eucharistic prayer, the Lamb of God.

If the priest sings the principal prayer texts, a vigorous Amen is to be sung. Often, in Masses with children, the sung acclamations by the people weave through the entire Eucharistic prayer. The back-and-forth singing of priest and people is a reminder that the liturgy is a dialogue between the assembly and God. The Responsorial Psalms are joined to melody so they may be implanted in our memory, abiding in our hearts as a treasury of prayer, always available to the circumstances of the everyday.

When we view the liturgy from the perspective of the singing assembly, it is clear that the fathered people

“do” the liturgy. As a place of active engagement, the liturgy insists that its music be tuned to every voice. At a diocesan assembly recently, the people singing the responses soon realized that a delegation of people representing the ministry to the deaf were following the responses not by singing, but by signing. The synchronized movements of their arms and hands were a powerful reminder that no one is a passive spectator at worship.

Malia Puka O Kalani Church Singers.

Since the liturgy is a school of prayer, part of our preparation for liturgical prayer is learning to sing. How can our singing be more effective? The most familiar songs in parish prayer can accompany daily prayer: we can chant a familiar Gloria in the car on the way to work, rehearse a memorized psalm in the shower, sing a favorite hymn as part of grace before meals on Sunday, or repeat Lord have mercy as the children go through their bedtime blessings.

A tape of sung morning or evening prayer can accompany our commute and transform the daily drudgery into a sung pilgrimage. It helps further to arrive early at Sunday Mass in time to listen to the choir warm-up or to participate in any rehearsals, to have hymnals and other materials at hand, and to sit close to other persons. Their song will lend wings to our own, and soon we will be drawn into the prayer.

Darling, they're playing our song! declares the beloved, taking her partner by the hand onto the dance floor. The basic rule of thumb for music in liturgy, symbolized by the irrepressible monsignor who could not withhold his birdsong from the symphony, is this: at worship, they're always playing our song!

Rice Bag Babies – Students in Mrs. Beth Andrade’s Theology class recently completed a 2 week “rice bag” baby project. Each student was responsible for ‘parenting’ a 10 lb. bag of rice, simulating a newborn baby. Strict rules applied including carrying the ‘baby’ around at all times, phoning the school voicemail during the wee hours of the morning to report on feedings, and various other responsibilities that come with being a parent.
