No more “Yahweh” in songs and prayers

An article in the August 22 issue of the Hawaii Catholic Herald brought to our attention a new Vatican directive on the use of the name God in sacred liturgy. The Vatican is invoking ancient tradition in ruling that the name of God not be used or pronounced in songs and prayers during Catholic Masses and liturgies.

Specifically, the Vatican says to avoid pronouncing the Tetragrammaton -- YHWH, the four consonants of the ancient Hebrew name for God.

“As an expression of the infinite greatness and majesty of God, it was held to be unpronounceable,” the directive says. It points to alternatives: the Hebrew word adonai, the Greek kyrios and Latin dominus, all of which mean “Lord.”

The reasoning seems based on the relatively late tradition that the name was too holy to be pronounced, and the fact that the name was replaced with “Lord” in the early Greek and Latin translations used by the church.

We hope that this clarifies any confusion regarding this matter.

Thank you Fr. Carroll!

We want to say a big thank you to Fr. Joe Carroll for assisting us during Fr. Tom’s vacation. We hope that you had a pleasant stay and that you will come back again soon. May God’s peace be with you always.

September 28, 2008: Twenty Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year A

Readings: Ezekiel 18:25-28; Philippians 2:1-11; Matthew 21:28-32

First Reading: Ezekiel 18:25-28

The prophet Ezekiel in the First Reading underlines personal responsibility to the Lord for one's own actions in an age when it was held that descendants inherited the punishment for their fathers' sins. (See Ex 20:5-6; Dt 5:9-10; 29:18-21.) Hence those who turn away from evil and do good will be saved; those who think they belong to the "inner circle" will not be saved unless their deeds are righteous. Therefore personal responsibility has the last word. In the final analysis, each person can be held accountable only for one's own deeds.

Responsorial Psalm: Psalm 25:4-5, 6-7, 8-9

Psalm 25 is the prayer of a sinner who understands the consequences of one's sin, yet trusts in God's mercy. Response: "Remember your mercies, O Lord."

Second Reading: Philippians 2:1-11

Paul in this passage writes to the Church in Philippi in a positive vein, seeking to lead them to greater perfection in the love for one another based on Christ. The core of Christian perfection is humility, based on the humility of Christ. The humble person must be motivated by a healthy appreciation of the other person's value. Such a person feels secure and may actually forget titles, privileges, and self-praise, and concentrate on the good and worth of others.

Gospel: Matthew 21:28-32

The background to this text is important. Jesus had arrived at the temple, and as he was teaching, the Chief priests and elders questioned his authority to teach the things he was teaching. In response Jesus asked them about the authority of John's baptism. Since the Chief priests and elders said that they did not know, Jesus told them that neither would he tell them the source of his authority. Then Jesus proceeded to tell them the parable of the two sons. In the parable, Jesus does not prefer sin to virtue. Rather, Jesus emphasizes that many of those classified as sinners may actually be closer to salvation through repentance than those who think themselves just but are blind to the real demands of God's love. This is an important lesson for us Christians. Sometimes our "yes" to God may contain so much selfishness that a real "no" lies behind the response. On the other hand, one who begins by saying "no" outwardly, may actually be searching for a genuine image of God leading one to say "yes."

Secular Franciscan's

S. F. O. Who are they? They are lay people professed according to the Rule of the Secular Franciscan Order. They have chosen to follow the gospel in the footsteps of St. Francis of Assisi who wholeheartedly embraced all of nature in his profound expression of his love for God. This wholeheartedness won for him the Stigmata or Wounds of Christ. The St. Joseph Fraternity of S.F.O. has 8 professed members. We hold monthly meetings during which we study the teachings of the order which applies the gospel life in today's world. We have a daily office or prayer to connect us to gospel life. Fueled by this daily prayer we try our best to be examples of Christ in our homes, workplaces and community. You will see us at our upcoming Fundraiser during the weekend of October 4th and 5th. We will be selling Treat Bags for our Furry and Feathered Friends all in the Spirit of St. Francis whose Feast day is October 4th.

CELEBRATING 140 YEARS

School year 2008-2009 marks the 140th anniversary of St. Joseph School's presence here on the Big Island. It was chartered in 1869 by King Kamehameha V to teach English to native and immigrant children. In 1875 the school was split by gender, the boys school becoming known as St. Mary's School in 1885 when the Marianist Brothers took over the administration and teaching responsibilities. Parish priests and lay people taught the girls until the Syracuse Franciscans Sisters arrived in 1900 to assume responsibility for St. Joseph School. The two schools were rejoined in 1948 and graduated its first combined senior class in 1951.

To honor the legacy of our history Bishop Larry Silva will be celebrating mass at St. Joseph Church for students and parishioners on Thursday, March 19, 2009 at 9:15 a.m. The night before, March 18, the school will host a gala gathering in Hilo for alumni, family, community, and friends at Auntie Sally's Luau House. Stay tuned for more information.

STRATEGIC PLANNING TEAM REPORTS

The St. Joseph School Strategic Planning team met August 23, 2008. The goals of the school year 2007-2008 were reviewed with successes and challenges discussed. The all-day session focused on strategic plans for 2008-2009 and on the need to address mid-term accreditation matters (Note: The school received a full term 6-year accreditation in 2006 with a mid-term report and visit scheduled for 2009).

Three subcommittees comprise the Strategic Planning team:

- Collaborating Toward a Viable Future is focusing on addressing the school's financial needs and improving its financial position; updating the school's financial management system; collaborating with community resources to develop a marketing plan to increase enrollment; and establishing a facilities task force to improve the integrity, suitability, and usability of all school properties.
- Building a Shared Vision is exploring possibilities for a community-wide service project for the school; enhancing the quarterly parish bulletin inserts with a personal thank you visit to all Big Island parishes; and supporting the Development Office with the alumni and community appreciation event in celebration of the 140th anniversary on March 18, 2009 (see above).
- Energizing the Learning Experience is overseeing the school's curriculum mapping project; supporting the professional development program; and organizing the Academic Hall of Fame in conjunction with the 140th anniversary.

The Strategic Planning team would like to ask anyone that would like to participate on these subcommittees to please contact Patrick Naughton at the school (933-1459 or pwnaughton@gmail.com).

SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

Bishop Silva Visits: St. Joseph School was very privileged to have Bishop Larry Silva spend most of the school day with the school community on August 20. Bishop Larry visited all the classrooms and interacted with the students from preschool through high school. He also spoke at length to the staff about the meaning and purpose of Catholic education in our world today and the importance of collaborating with parishes in this ministry.

Extra-Curricular Presentations: The Maui Academy of Performing Arts (MAPA) presented its award winning environmental play "Pupule and the Pernicious Plastic Plaque" to the elementary school. During September the students also had a great visit with the Humane Society.

Japan Sister School Visit: St. Joseph School has a Sister School relationship with Urawa Jitsugyo Gakuen, Saitama, Japan, for the purpose of "promoting international understanding and friendship, expanding the educational opportunities of the students and broadening their horizons." Every two years Urawa and St. Joseph students conduct an exchange visit. This year St. Joseph School is looking forward to welcoming two administrators, an English teacher, and eleven students (grades 7 through 9) to Hilo for two weeks in November. The visiting students will stay with host SJS students and their families and practice their English skills while learning about the culture of Hawaii and St. Joseph School. If any parish families know of special events or cultural opportunities taking place from November 2-13 that might be of special interest to our visitors, please contact Patrick Naughton (933-1459 or pwnaughton@gmail.com) with suggestions.

OUR JOURNEY TO A PARISH HALL

It is a tremendous task for the team to determine the placement for the new Parish Hall. A questionnaire was distributed to parishioners in July and the results from that questionnaire indicated that the majority would prefer our parish hall to be erected on the adjacent property.

We have good news—Don Coloma, coordinator for the Site/Development team checked on EIS (environmental impact statement) requirements and we are fortunate that there are no restrictions applied to our property.

Note: The names of two individuals were inadvertently left off the list of the Design sub-team. They are Pat Pavao and Alex Kamau. Our apologies for the omission.

Faithful Citizenship

2008 is an election year and as Catholics we are called to “Faithful Citizenship” within our communities. The Hilo Roman Catholic Community would like to encourage all Catholics to be responsible citizens and register to vote in the upcoming election. For your convenience we are providing you with voter registration materials located in the back of both St. Joseph and Malia Puka O Kalani churches. Also available for parishioners is the 2008 Hawaii Primary election Survey of Candidates sponsored by the Hawaii Family Forum and the Hawaii Catholic Conference. The voter registration deadline for the general election is Monday, October 6, 2008, at 4:30 pm.

A message from Fr. Joe

This is the last week to volunteer to serve on either the Finance Committee, the Liturgy Committee, or the Maintenance Committee. I will be back home to Malia later this week. As soon as I get settled again and recover from “jet lag” I will contact everyone who has volunteered. You don’t need to be an expert in any area in order to be a volunteer. We are mainly looking for individuals who will express their thoughts and opinions on how we get and how we spend our money, how we celebrate our Faith, and/or how we maintain our buildings and grounds. I have a very strong belief that the fiber of a parish is as strong as its parishioners. Malia has already proven that we are a strong and resilient parish. Now we need to broaden the base so that the base can sustain the growth. The explanation of the committees is in the Sept. 7th Bulletin and the sign-up sheets are at the entrance to the church. Consider putting your name forward. I’ll see you next Sunday. Mahalo. Fr. Joe
