Rev. Samuel Loterte, SSS

August 9, 2009, 19th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ, Peace!

I would like to take this opportunity to thank some of our parishioners who voiced their concern about the temporary suspension of the giving of the Cup at communion time. I really appreciate it. This is what makes our parish a truly Eucharistic community. I want to assure you that in receiving the Body of the Lord without the Precious Blood you are receiving fully the grace of the sacrament.

Let me quote to #1390 of the Catechism of the Catholic Church. It says, "Since Christ is sacramentally present under each of the species, communion under the species of bread alone makes it possible to receive all the fruit of Eucharistic grace. For pastoral reasons this manner of receiving communion has been legitimately established as the common form in the Latin rite. But 'the sign of communion is more complete when given under both kinds, since in that form the sign of the Eucharistic meal appears more clearly.' This is the usual form of receiving communion in the Eastern rites."

We will soon get back to giving both species in the Mass as soon as we get a clearance that there is no more threat of MINI virus.

Once again, thank you for your patience and kind understanding.

In Jesus, our Bread of Life,

Fr. Samuel E. Loterte, SSS

FAQ

Frequently Asked Questions on Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament

3. What is the importance of Eucharistic devotion?

Answer:

"This practice, repeatedly praised and recommended by the Magisterium (the Teaching Body of the Roman Catholic Church), is supported by the example of many saints. Particularly outstanding in this regard was Saint Alphonsus Ligouri, who wrote: 'Of all devotions, that of adoring Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament is the greatest after the sacraments, the one dearest to God and the one most helpful to us.' The Eucharist is a priceless treasure: by not only celebrating it but also by praying before it outside of Mass we are enabled to make contact with the very wellspring of grace."

The Project of Life of the Aggregation of the Blessed Sacrament # 8 says, "In the prayer of contemplation and adoration of Christ present in the Eucharist solemnly exposed or in the tabernacle, we prolong the grace of the mystery celebrated, thereby intensifying our union with Christ so as to become with him and like him bread broken for a new world."

August 9, 200919th Sunday in Ordinary Time (B)

1 Kgs 19:4-8 , Ps 34:2-3, 4-5, 6-7, 8-9 , Eph 4:30--5:2, Jn 6:41-51

Meals are more than a stop to refuel our bodies. They can be a real art, a time to deepen relationships. We prepare the food carefully, set the table, cultivate good manners and good conversation. Behind the simple act of eating is a way to renew the human relationships which bring us to the table in the first place.

Today we continue our five-week look at the sixth chapter of John, where Jesus is portrayed as the "Bread of Life." In that chapter, people ask him for a sign, like the manna in the desert of Moses' time. Jesus' reply? He himself is the "bread of life."

In today's Gospel the people "murmur" and accuse Jesus of arrogance—or worse. Jesus replies that he has come to give them his "flesh for the life of the world." He offers them the very life of God, a life that will enable them to live forever.

Jesus' words shock his hearers. To us, the words are familiar. We believe that in the Eucharist we celebrate each Sunday is the crucified and risen Jesus Christ himself, drawing us to himself. And yet how easy it is to take all this for granted, to make Sunday Mass just something else we do. Let's allow this summer meditation on the Bread of Life to renew our faith and our enthusiastic response to Christ.

For the Ride Home

by Ted Bergh

19th Sunday in Ordinary Time (B)Scripture

- He got up, ate and drank; then strengthened by that food, he walked forty days and forty nights to the mountain of God, Horeb. (1 Kings 19:7,8)
- Taste and see how good the Lord is; blessed the man who takes refuge in him. (Psalm 34:9)
- And be kind to one another, compassionate, forgiving one another as God has forgiven you in Christ. (Ephesians 4:32)
- "...I am the living bread that came down from heaven; whoever eats this bread will live forever; and the bread that I will give is my flesh for the life of the world." (John 6:51)

Reflection

- Who gives Elijah strength for his spiritual journey? Is this an inner journey?
- Does the psalmist literally mean "taste and see" or is this metaphor for entering into the spiritual journey? How do you "take refuge" in God?
- Is becoming compassionate love a way to consume (enter) Christ?
- Is consuming Jesus, "the living bread," the way to enter into the interior or spiritual life that is God?

Yes, love is God in me, and if I am in love I am in God, that is, in life, in grace, a sharer in God's being....If charity is God in me, why look for God any further than myself? And if God is in me as Love, why do I change or disfigure God's face with acts or values that are not love? (Carlo Carretto)¹

Pro-Life Update

Remember joining the effort to stop the “Freedom of choice Act?” The Act, which Congress was contemplating would nullify any local and state statues protecting the unborn, use our tax money to pay for abortions, and force medical personnel to perform abortions against their moral consciences.

Congress heard us, but instead of shelving the measure, sneaked all of FOCA’s terrible provisions into the proposed 1,000 page Health Reform Act. We again must let Congress know how we feel.

Please email, call, or write our Congressional representatives, or better yet, handwrite a letter and hand deliver it to the local office.

Tell them to EXPLICITLY EXCLUDE any support for abortion from the Health Reform Act. —Mahalo and God Bless!

St. Maximilian Mary Kolbe

Feast Day: Aug. 14, 2008

“I don’t know what’s going to become of you!” How many parents have said that? Maximilian Mary Kolbe’s reaction was, “I prayed very hard to Our Lady to tell me what would happen to me. She appeared, holding in her hands two crowns, one white, one red. She asked if I would like to have them—one was for purity, the other for martyrdom. I said, ‘I choose both.’ She smiled and disappeared.” After that he was not the same.

He entered the minor seminary of the Conventual Franciscans in Lviv (then Poland, now Ukraine), near his birthplace, and at 16 became a novice. Though he later achieved doctorates in philosophy and theology, he was deeply interested in science, even drawing plans for rocket ships.

Ordained at 24, he saw religious indifference as the deadliest poison of the day. His mission was to combat it. He had already founded the Militia of the Immaculata, whose aim was to fight evil with the witness of the good life, prayer, work, and suffering. He dreamed of and then founded Knight of the Immaculata, a religious magazine under Mary’s protection to preach the Good News to all nations. For the work of publication he established a “City of the Immaculata”—Niepokalanow—which housed 700 of his Franciscan brothers. He later founded one in Nagasaki, Japan. Both the Militia and the magazine ultimately reached the one-million mark in members and subscribers. His love of God was daily filtered through devotion to Mary.

In 1939 the Nazi panzers overran Poland with deadly speed. Niepokalanow was severely bombed. Kolbe and his friars were arrested, then released in less than three months, on the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

In 1941 he was arrested again. The Nazis’ purpose was to liquidate the select ones, the leaders. The end came quickly, in Auschwitz three months later, after terrible beatings and humiliations.

A prisoner had escaped. The commandant announced that 10 men would die. He relished walking along the ranks. “This one. That one.” As they were being marched away to the starvation bunkers, Number 16670 dared to step from the line. “I would like to take that man’s place. He has a wife and children.” “Who are you?” “A priest.” No name, no mention of fame. Silence. The commandant, dumbfounded, perhaps with a fleeting thought of history, kicked Sergeant Francis Gajowniczek out of line and ordered Father Kolbe to go with the nine. In the “block of death” they were ordered to strip naked and the slow starvation began in darkness. But there was no screaming—the prisoners sang. By the eve of the Assumption four were left alive. The jailer came to finish Kolbe off as he sat in a corner praying. He lifted his fleshless arm to receive the bite of the hypodermic needle. It was filled with carbolic acid. They burned his body with all the others. He was beatified in 1971 and canonized in 1982.

Feast of Assumption of Mary

On November 1, 1950, Pius XII defined the Assumption of Mary to be a dogma of faith: "We pronounce, declare, and define it to be a divinely revealed dogma that the immaculate Mother of God, the ever Virgin Mary, having completed the course of her earthly life, was assumed body and soul to heavenly glory." The pope proclaimed this dogma only after a broad consultation of bishops, theologians, and laity. There were few dissenting voices. What the pope solemnly declared was already a common belief in the Catholic Church.

We find homilies on the Assumption going back to the sixth century. In following centuries the Eastern Churches held steadily to the doctrine, but some authors in the West were hesitant. However, by the thirteenth century there was universal agreement. The feast was celebrated under various names (Commemoration, Dormition, Passing, Assumption) from at least the fifth or sixth century.

Scripture does not give an account of Mary's Assumption into heaven. Nevertheless, Revelation 12 speaks of a woman who is caught up in the battle between good and evil. Many see this woman as God's people. Since Mary best embodies the people of both

Old and New Testament, her Assumption can be seen as an exemplification of the woman's victory.

Furthermore, in 1 Corinthians 15:20 Paul speaks of Christ's resurrection as the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep.

Since Mary is closely associated with all the mysteries of Jesus' life, it is not surprising that the Holy Spirit has led the Church to belief in Mary's share in his glorification. So close was she to Jesus on earth, she must be with him body and soul in heaven.
