Lord, let us see your kindness,
and grant us your salvation.
The LORD himself will give his benefits;
our land shall yield its increase.
Justice shall walk before him,
and prepare the way of his steps.

Again this week, we hear the theme of rejection: Amos experiences it, and Jesus warns the Apostles that some will not welcome or listen to them. The Church is called not necessarily to be successful but only to be faithful to God’s command.

With authority and power given to her by Jesus, the Church proclaims God’s peace and salvation to those who believe in Him, as we sing in today’s Psalm.

This word of truth, this Gospel of salvation, is addressed to each of us, personally, as Paul proclaims in today’s Epistle. In the mystery of God’s will, we have been chosen from before the foundation of the world—to be His sons and daughters, to live for the praise of His glory.

Let us, then, give thanks for the Church today, and for the spiritual blessings He has bestowed upon us. Let us resolve to further the Church’s mission—to help others hear the call to repentance and welcome Christ into their lives.

Faith & Reason as lifelong partners; Gifts from God.

-Written by Chrislyn A. Villena, St. Joseph Church director of Religious Ed.

“Natural reason is the inbuilt essence or ability to know reality” (Dr. Sirilla, FUS, Week 8). "We can come to know natural reason through two natural paths to knowledge, 1) sense evidence which is the reliable means by which we know reality and 2) intellectual knowledge which is the knowledge of the immaterial" (Dr. Sirilla, FUS, Week 8).

"Faith is based on the word of God...when we make an act of faith we accept doctrine as true, because God, who knows all things cannot lie, affirms it" (Sheehan, Apologetics & Catholic Doctrine, 284). Faith is necessary for salvation according to the document from the first Vatican council, "This faith, which is the beginning of human salvation, the Catholic Church professes to be supernatural virtue, by means of which, with the grace of God inspiring and assisting us" (Dei Filius, Ch. 3 a. 2). The Church teaches that there are two actions of faith. The first is fidei quae creditur, defined as the faith that which is believed. This faith is the content of what God has revealed to the Church as truth. The second is fidei qua creditur which is the faith on what one personally believes. This faith is a gift from God, motivated by trustworthiness of God through signs of credibility. Although man may have difficulties in his understanding of reality or he may question things about faith, there can be no room for doubt or opinions as God cannot deceive nor be deceived.

Faith and reason are harmonious with one another and although found at times to act independent of one another cannot contradict each other. They mutually support one another. "All faithful Christians are forbidden to defend as the legitimate conclusions of science those opinions which are known to be contrary to the doctrine of faith" (Dei Filius, Ch. 4 a. 9). "We define that every assertion contrary to the truth of enlightened faith is totally false" (Dei Filius, Ch. 4) a. 7). "When divine revelation is properly understood by the mind of the Church and when natural reason is properly operating concluding to the truth, not a mistake, then there will never be a contradiction between the two because God is the author of both orders of knowledge" (Dr. Sirilla, FUS, Week 8).

“Nevertheless, in order that the submission of our faith should be in accordance with reason, it was God's will that there should be linked to the internal assistance of the Holy Spirit external indications of his revelation, that is to say divine acts, and first and foremost miracles and prophecies, which clearly demonstrating as they do the omnipotence and infinite knowledge of God, are the most certain signs of revelation and are suited to the understanding of all" (Dei Filius, Chapter 3). God is all-knowing and all-loving is a philosophical truth. Thus, God in His omnipotence, is the author of all truth both natural and supernatural. Therefore, faith and reason can never truly contradict each other. The gifts of both faith and reason, when working together, help us become the closest we can to God.

CERTAIN THAT WHATEVER EVIL
WE SUFFER, GOD
BRINGS A GREATER GOOD OUT OF THAT.”

QUOTE

Act of Faith

O my God, I firmly believe that you are one God in three divine Persons, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. I believe that your divine Son became man and died for our sins and that he will come to judge the living and the dead. I believe these and all the truths which the Holy Catholic Church teaches because you have revealed them who are eternal truth and wisdom, who can neither deceive nor be deceived. In this faith I intend to live and die. Amen.

Act of Hope

O Lord God,
I hope by your grace for the pardon of all my sins and after life here to gain eternal happiness because you have promised it who are infinitely powerful, faithful, kind, and merciful. In this hope I intend to live and die. Amen.

Act of Love

O Lord God, I love you above all things and I love my neighbor for your sake because you are the highest, infinite and perfect good, worthy of all my love. In this love I intend to live and die. Amen.

Help Wanted

Opportunities to join SJC Hospitality Ministries:

- A. Church Flower Team members decorate the altar areas with flowers and foliage once a month. Each team serves on a set Saturday, 8:20 - 9:40a. Each team consists of 3-5 members.
- B. Church Cleaning Team members Each team serves on a fourth Saturday rotation, 8:20-9:40 am and consists of 8-12 members.
- C. Hospitality Ministers serve one mass per week-end. Six team members arrive one hour before (Sat 5p, Sun 7a, 9a, 11:45a, 6p) to prepare the church and welcome members using safety protocols. During mass, ministers return to their seats; then, assist at communion and follow end of mass protocols. After mass, 3 additional ministers spend 5 minutes disinfecting the church for the next mass. Approximately, 45 hospitality ministers serve parishioners at 5 masses each weekend.

Thank you for considering opportunities to join a Hospitality Ministry.
