FOURTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

We are his people, the sheep of his flock.

My sheep hear my voice, Jesus says in today’s Gospel. I know them, and they follow me.

For us who are meant to be Jesus’ “sheep,” today’s first reading can be an examination of conscience for us. We are called to know him and to follow him. Do we recognize Jesus and listen to him? Or are we like those in Acts who, filled with jealousy, were deaf to the Good News as it was proclaimed in their midst? Likely, we are both. We may have moments where we can hear, and moments where distractions, struggles, busy schedules, pride, or any other number of things deafen us to our shepherd’s voice.

Today, let us pray for new hearts, open ears, and the knowledge to follow Christ in this season and always. Let us seek out the silence, the stillness, the prayer, and the wise friends who can help us hear the voice of our shepherd more clearly. Let us have the humility to seek and find him on his terms and not on our own. May the One we encounter in this Eucharist shelter us and shepherd us to springs of life-giving water and wipe away every tear from our eyes. May we be filled with joy and the Holy Spirit and be an instrument of salvation to the ends of the earth.

The Jubilee Prayer

Father in heaven,
may the faith you have given us in your son, Jesus Christ, our brother, and the flame of charity enkindled in our hearts by the Holy Spirit, reawaken in us the blessed hope for the coming of your Kingdom.
May your grace transform us into tireless cultivators of the seeds of the Gospel.
May those seeds transform from within both humanity and the whole Cosmos in the sure expectation of a new heaven and a new earth, when, with the powers of Evil vanquished, your glory will shine eternally.

May the grace of the Jubilee reawaken in us, Pilgrims of Hope, a yearning for the treasures of heaven.

May that same grace spread the joy and peace of our Redeemer throughout the earth.

To you our God, eternally blessed, be glory and praise for ever.
Amen.

Franciscus
